Energy Efficiency in Buildings:
How to Accelerate Investments?
Paris La Défense, 11 December 2017

Co-organised by the European Commission and the French Ministry for Ecological and Inclusive Transition, in partnership with UN Environment Finance Initiative (UNEP-FI), the Energy Efficiency Financial Institutions Group (EEFIG), the Global Alliance for Buildings and Construction (GABC) and the Clean Energy Ministerial.

Energy efficiency is one of the most cost-effective ways to reach the objectives of the Paris Climate Agreement and the European Union’s climate and energy objectives. Buildings represent the largest economic potential for energy efficiency. While the most developed economies need to accelerate the decarbonisation of their existing building stock, emerging economies need to move towards the construction of zero emission, efficient and resilient buildings.

The needed acceleration of investments in buildings energy efficiency can only be reached through the mobilisation of private finance, which requires adapted policy frameworks.

The conference is a side event of the One Planet Summit organised by the Office of the Presidency of the French Republic in Paris on 12 December. It aims to take stock of progress made, 2 years after COP 21 which saw significant commitments taken by banks and investors on energy efficiency, and to look at the next steps in order to accelerate investments in energy efficiency in buildings.

The event targets particularly financial institutions, policy makers as well as energy efficiency project developers and companies. It aims to bring concrete solutions to the whole investment value chain and it will address the following key questions: how to accelerate the development of bankable projects? How to develop the supply of finance for energy efficiency investments? How to shape policies to create an investment-friendly environment? And how to ensure the mobilisation of all market actors?

Updates of the agenda and registration information are available on the event website. The conference will be held in French and English, with simultaneous interpretation.

This event is organised as part of the Sustainable Energy Investment Forums contract, funded under the EU Horizon 2020 programme and managed by the Executive Agency for Small and Medium-sized Enterprises (EASME).
